

The Quoted
Companies Alliance

19 January 2010
The Evening Standard
City Spy

Brian Winterflood is showing few signs of slowing down after five decades in the City. The founder of Winterflood Securities has been appointed president of the Quoted Companies Alliance, which works with small and mid-cap quoted companies in the UK. Current president Lord Strathclyde is standing down to focus on his political career.